The Word

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

Word*, from the Greek original text is* Logos*;*

G3056 λόγος logos From G3004; something said (including the thought); by implication a topic (subject of discourse), also reasoning (the mental faculty) or motive; by extension a computation; specifically (with the article in John) the Divine Expression (that is, Christ). G3004 λέγω A primary verb; properly to "lay" forth, that is, (figuratively) relate (in words usually of systematic or set discourse.

Humankind was created and formed into the flesh with the Word already in them. With Christ, the Word became flesh.

John 1:13-14 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

Luke 8:12 Those by the way side are they that hear; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

If "Satan" taketh away the word out of their hearts, then we can assume that the Word was in your heart prior to you choosing to taketh away by way of sin-evils.

The Word is spiritual in us. The Word can never be removed from a soul, only a separation or distance through sin-evil. Again, eternity and truth never changes. The Word will never change or leave a soul.

Christ, being the manifestation of the Word, is our example of how the Word lives through the flesh. He came to save the sinners. We are the sinners and yet we condemn others because of the lack of our understanding of the Word and the example set by Christ. By condemn others, we condemn ourselves.

John 17:23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

Judging (the lack of), understanding (others), faith, trust, (who knows better than the Creator), and practicing of love in your life is that perfection.

Mat 18:11 For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.
